INDEPENDENT AUDITORS REPORT

To: The management of Democracy for Development (D4D)

We have audited financial statements of Democracy for Development (the Organization) which comprises the statement of financial position as at 31 December 2017, the income statement, statement of changes in net assets and cash flow statement for the year then ended, and notes to financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies.

In our opinion, the financial statements of Democracy for Development, for the year ended 31 December 2017 are prepared, in all material respects, in accordance with the financial reporting requirement of organization and relevant laws in Kosovo.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (ISAs). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Organization in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in Kosovo, and we fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation of the financial statements in accordance with the financial reporting requirements and for such controls as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatements, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Organization's ability to continue as going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters relating to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Organization or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Organization's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists.

Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these

As part of an audit in accordance with ISAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Organization's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Organization's ability to continue as going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Organization to cease to continue as a going concern.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES AND GENERAL INFORMATION

1. Introduction

Democracy for Development (D4D) is registered as a non-governmental and non-profit Organization under the Law no. 04/L - 57on 14 April 2010 with registration number 5200219-2, fiscal number 600583464, with head office located at Zenel Salihu Nr 28 5/13, Prishtine, Kosovo.

The Democracy for Development (D4D) Institute was established in April 2010 by a group of analysts who increasingly worried that the state-building exercise had neglected democracy. D4D's vision is to promote an active and educated citizenry that participates fully in the public space and utilizes the public arena of representation and decision-making to deliberate and build consensus over resource allocation that is efficient, smart, long-term, and that brings about equitable development. D4D influences specific policy, promotes a cross-sectorial approach to problem solving, and tackles the institutional routine of decision-making by recommending incremental improvements. D4D counteracts the lack of data with a culture of rigorous research, thoughtful analysis, and healthy debate. To make headway, D4D first offers its research findings to interested stakeholders, which is followed by a paper with recommendations, wider national dialogue, and advocacy with authorities, and pressure through the media. The main program pillars of D4D are:

- Elections and Political Parties
- Governance and Inter-Ethnic Relations
- Public Interest
- Data and Research Skills

Main projects implemented during 2017:

Policy Analysis and Research

Organizational development grants aim to provide support for improvement in the three specific areas of think tank activity and operation: quality of research products; communications and advocacy capacities and internal development and governance. The grants aims to strengthen the capacities of the organization in the quality of outputs and research products; developing a communication and outreach strategy; training for staff and other civil society representatives; improve internal governance through regular board meetings and strategic planning. The project is supported by Open Society Institute through the activities of Think Tank Fund.
